New Gases

After doing a good dry goods, clothing and shoe business for years in this city and making a fine money his ambition called for J B Anderson has sold his stock of goods to James Leach, of Maywood and John Guinan, of Quincy and quits the mercantile world for pastoral scenes. He and Mrs. Marshall will be greatly missed by hundreds of friends.

The new firm comes here highly recommended by bankers and the people among whom they have done business for years.

The Anderson store makes the third one in a chain.

Mr. Leach who will remain in charge of the Anderson store is also a stockholder in the paper at Maywood and knows the value of advertising and will be such a liberal patron of printers ink, there will be no excuse for reading mail order catalogs to get prices and as the new firm intends to greatly increase size and quality of stock and tell you about it and the prices, there will not be a ghost of an excuse for going out of the city for any thing in their line. So watch for the next issue of the DEMOCRAT.

Mr. Guinan is one of the solid business men of Quincy and a director in the Ricker Bank, which is one of the oldest and strongest business concerns in the Gem City.

Mrs. Ada Eakle, Andrew and George Grimm will remain with the new firm and Miss Bertha Dierks, of Maywood will also be one of the polite and attentive clerks.

Monroeites are a hospitable people and will give the new firm a cordial greeting.

ABOUT THE CHURCHES.

Interesting News Concerning the Different Denominations.

Rev Dr I W. Read spent Friday with friends in Hunnewell

Rev J M. O'Brien, who conducted a holiness meeting at Oakwood during the summer has bought the old Methodist church at Shelbyville and purposes to run the church to suit himself. About four years ago Rev O'Brien refused to abide by the action of the annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church of which he was a member and has since been preaching at random, and not under authority of any church, dividing his time working in the cause of temperance and in the interest of the Holiness church.—Bannibal Courier-Post

The Rev. Fr. Noble, Rector of St. Jude's church, Monroe, occupied his former pulpit in Calvary church last Sunday. Fr. Noble was greeted by a good congregation and preached a most interesting sermon on the subject of Modern Science and Modern Thought bearing testimony to the truth of the Christian Faith. He said that Lord Kelvin and Sir Oliver Lodge had not taken sides with Darwin, Huxley, Haeckel and the school scientists who spoke of man as an evolution from the Monad. And called the ape his nearest ancestor. He quoted largely from Sir Oliver Lodge's new catechism, and showed that he spoke of God with reverence and awe, and not as Herbert Spencer as the Unknowable. The sermon was highly appreciated, and especially by those whose mind has been disturbed by scientists who have tried to prove that the Mosaic account of the Creation was inconsistent with modern science, and he proved that so far from that being the case modern science was proving herself to be the hand-maid of religion.—Pike County News, January 16th.

Words spoken by the Rt. Rev. Dr. Tuttle Bishop of Mo., at a large and representative missionary meeting in Houston, Texas, on January 7, 8, and 9th. He recognized with thankfulness the work that other religious bodies have done, and are doing for the extension of Christ's Kingdom. After speaking at some length, in closing "he made a most earnest and wise and timely warning against union meetings" declaring that such proceedings do not help, but hinder the coming of christian union. Using a simple, homely illustration, he said that farmers living on adjoining farms might be very friendly, but it was very necessary that each keep up his own line fence, otherwise the cattle would be giving trouble and cause a breach of friendship." "Go slow," he said, "be careful, with your heart love your brother, and be looking out for the coming of that better day, when God's Spirit will guide the good sense of our American people to conclude that it isn't common sense to have ten spires in a town of one thousand, where there are ten half starved ministers, when all that is needed is one or two."—Living Church, January 18th.

We have just bought a new job press and other material and we want to pay for it and all else that we owe. In order that we may do so we must collect what is due us. It is not necessary to ask those whom we owe to call as they will do that without the asking and we want to pay all we owe and can easily do so if the people whom we have favored will do the right thing and settle promptly.
